INTRODUCTION

Purpose

The primary purpose of this eighth edition of the South Carolina Foundation Directory is to assist grant seekers in their search for funds to support the programs and projects of their organizations. An attempt was made to include information on all of the active private foundations, community foundations, and grant-making public charities located within the state of South Carolina or registered in South Carolina, AND that also give in South Carolina. Foundations that are located or registered in South Carolina but do not give grants here have been excluded.

Methodology

Most entries were compiled from information found on 2004 to 2005 Internal Revenue Service tax returns. Each private foundation is required to file a form 990-PF annually. This form includes information on the foundation's income, assets, expenses, grants or contributions paid, grants approved for future payment, officers or trustees, address, and telephone number. Form 990-PF's can be accessed via the web at the following sites: www.grantsmart.org; www.guidestar.org, or www.foundationcenter.org. Several of the larger South Carolina foundations publish annual reports and have web pages. When available these were used to supplement the information available on 990-PF forms.

Scope

It must be emphasized that information regarding a foundation's geographical emphasis and fields of interest is based solely upon examination of the lists of grants awarded reported by the foundation in its IRS return. In most cases, the foundations were not contacted; and thus, the information contained in this directory DOES NOT reflect any official direct policy statements on the part of the foundations themselves.

This directory is intended to be a starting point for individuals seeking information on the foundations included. Individuals are strongly encouraged to refer to additional sources of information before contacting the foundations.

Explanation of Entries

Entries are arranged alphabetically by foundation name, followed by the address and telephone number, when available, with additional parts of the entry clearly labeled to show:

- Officers and Board Members
- Accepts/Does Not Accept Requests
- Program Interests
- Geographic Focus
- Financial Data
- Sample Grants
- Notes
- Fiscal Year Ended
- EIN number
- Date of last update of record
- Web address (when available)

PLEASE NOTE that the telephone number given is sometimes from the item on the foundation's IRS 990-PF return which asks for the location and telephone number of the individual or office which keeps the foundation's books. In a few cases, this location is in a different city than that shown as the foundation's address.

LIBRARY RESOURCES AND SERVICES

Grants Research Collection at the South Carolina State Library

The South Carolina State Library is a Cooperating Collection designated by the Foundation Center in New York to receive and make available information on philanthropic foundations. The Grants Research Collection includes numerous reference works published by the Foundation Center and other publishers, periodicals on fund raising, a small number of foundation annual reports, and a wide variety of books on grant seeking and fund raising strategies, grant proposal writing, and the operation of nonprofit organizations.
The South Carolina State's Library hours are 8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Library's reference staff is available to provide assistance in using the Grants Research Collection and can answer factual questions on specific foundations. Some materials are available for loan through the Library's interlibrary loan service. For additional information on this collection see the library's web page: www.statelibrary.sc.gov. Individuals planning to visit the State Library to use this collection are encouraged to telephone in advance and schedule a brief orientation to the collection: (803)734-8026.

Information Available at Other South Carolina Libraries

A copy of this South Carolina Foundation Directory is available at each county public library and academic library in South Carolina. Some of these libraries may also have available some basic publications related to grant seeking, fund raising and grant proposal writing.

The Anderson County Library, Charleston County Library, and the Greenville County Library also serve as Cooperating Collections of the Foundation Center. As such, the libraries maintain a collection of foundation directories and related titles. Inquiries regarding either of these collections should be directed to:

Notes:
This is a community foundation. Grants are made in all aspects of life: education, human services, health, arts and cultural, and civic. The Foundation accepts grant requests from nonprofit organizations recognized by the IRS as 501 ©(3) organizations, public entities, or other charitable, educational, or cultural organizations. Other than scholarships, the Foundation does not make grants to individuals. The Foundation accepts applications at any time throughout the year. Grant deadlines vary. Applications vary by type of grant but usually start with a letter of intent. The foundation reviews the grant request and informs the applicant whether or not it should submit a complete proposal. The asset distribution committee evaluates the proposals and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors. The Board makes the final decision on all grant awards. For specific information concerning application requirements, contact the Foundation at the address above or go to their web site for specific grant and scholarship details and application instructions: www.yourfoundation.org

Notes:
The main planned activity of the Foundation is to make grants to organizations focused on improving the health, education and welfare of children and young adults in the community of Charleston, South Carolina although due to the founder's national interests, grants may well be made to organizations outside the community. The Foundation has not determined specific charitable organizations to support, but conceptually such organizations may include hospitals, organizations assisting handicapped children, residential treatment centers, schools, colleges, governments providing recreation and after-school programs, unwed mother programs, abused children facilities, and adoption programs.
Qualified charities should make a proposal in letter form and include the following information:
1) a description of the organization, its purpose, programs, staffing and governing board;
) the organization's latest financial statements, including interim and last annual statement;
3) evidence from the irs of the organization's tax-exempt status and that the applying organization itself is not a private foundation;
4) a description of the proposed project and full justification for its funding, including a project budget and other funding sources of the project;
5) submit two copies of the proposal.
Send applications to Douglas D. Kugley, President, to the address above. Applications should generally be received by March 1st.

SCANA Corporation is the major contributor to the Foundation. Requests for contributions from The Summer Foundation are made in the form of general letters/correspondence. In communications between the Foundation and the entity requesting funds, the Foundation seeks to determine: 1. Whether the requesting entity has received tax exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service (photocopy of Internal Revenue Service Determination Letter is requested from the entity when its name is not commonly familiar).
2 . Whether or not the requesting entity is also a private, non-operating Foundation; contributions to such entities are discouraged.
3 . Amount of funds requested.
4. Intended use for the funds requested.
5 . Urgency (from a timing perspective) for the funds requested.

Notes:
The purpose of the Adele A. and Harold J. Westbrook Foundation is to provide grants, gifts and/or contributions to qualifying tax exempt organizations in support of general charitable programs throughout the United States. The Foundation will consider grant requests from appropriate agencies that will benefit the widest spectrum of the public, from education of young children to providing housing, food and medical care for those in need, and from time to time, special purpose programs, including those humane concerns which may be considered appropriate by the Board of Directors. In order for a grant request to be considered by the Foundation, the applying organization must be eligible by qualifying as a tax-exempt organization under Internal Revenue Code Section 501©(3) and classified as "not a private foundation" as defined under section 509(a). Applicants for grants must complete this application form and submit a copy of the applicant's LATEST ruling letter from the IRS establishing its current tax exempt status and showing the applicant's tax ID number. Apply to Ms. Joan Clarke, The Adele A. and Harold J. Westbrook Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 664, Midlothian, VA 23113. Application form and guidelines are attached to current IRS return.
